

Oklahoma State University
Library

Excellence • Integrity • Service • Intellectual Freedom • Diversity • Stewardship

If you want to be part of a team that is actively engaged in expanding the learning potential of students and in the academic research lifecycle, the Oklahoma State University Library is the career destination for you! We are hiring individuals who are creative, have a passion for learning and teaching, and are eager to drive their own projects, to innovate, and to take on challenges.

In a leadership role, as the Assistant/Associate Professor, Scholarly Services Librarian, you will be actively involved in:

- Open access research and publishing practices
- Author rights, copyright support, institutional repository, and scholarly impact
- Scholarly technology tools and solutions
- Liaising with academic departments
- Broadening inclusion of diverse constituencies

You will be offered a competitive salary and benefits package, including a generous holiday schedule and leave accrual. You will be offered start-up funding for research or travel, have access to a full communication team to help develop and deliver your message, and have the flexibility to cultivate programming from the ground up.

To help candidates determine whether the culture at the Oklahoma State University Library is a good fit, Dean Sheila Johnson has posted her expectations for OSU Libraries leaders on her website: <http://www.library.okstate.edu/about/dean-of-libraries/>.

A full position announcement with required qualifications is available at <http://bit.ly/2FAdYmE>.

Application review begins April 20, 2018, and continues until position is filled. For consideration of your application materials, you should apply through the University's website at <https://okstate.csod.com/ats/careersite/search.aspx?site=8&c=okstate>

OSU is an AA/EEO/E-Verify Employer